PUBLICATION AND ETHICS POLICY

The Ideal Journal of Legal Studies (IJLS) is a peer-reviewed law journal of School of Law of the Ideal Institute of Management and Technology. Published annually, it is an endeavor of the Institute to address contemporary issues in the field of law.

IJLS is committed to adopt the highest standards of ethics and take all possible measures against any publication malpractices. All the members of the Editorial Board ('Board'), Advisory Panel, Peer Reviewers ('Reviewers'), Authors and Contributors are subjected to this policy.

1. Publication Decisions

The Editorial Board of IJLS is responsible for deciding which of the manuscripts submitted to the Journal should be published. It abides by legal requirements as shall then be in force regarding defamation, copyright infringement and plagiarism. The editors shall confer with the Board and the Reviewers in making this decision.

2. Non-Discrimination

The manuscripts would be evaluated by the Board and the Reviewers for the content without regard to race, gender, sexual orientation, religious belief, ethnic origin, citizenship, and/or political philosophy of the Author(s).

3. Confidentiality

The Board and the Reviewers will not disclose any information about a submitted manuscript to anyone other than the corresponding Author(s), Reviewers and the Board.

4. Privacy

Unpublished materials disclosed in a submitted manuscript will not be used by any of the Board members or Reviewers in their own research without the express written permission of the Author(s).

5. Acknowledgement of Sources

The Author(s) should always duly acknowledge the work of others and should cite the influential publication. The Author(s) is directed to not use the information obtained by conversation, private correspondence or discussion with third parties without express permission from them.

6. Fundamental Errors in Published Works

If the Author(s) discovers a significant error or inaccuracy in their own published work, it is their obligation to promptly notify the Board and cooperate with to retract or correct the paper.

7. Conflict of Interest

The Board, the Reviewers and the Author(s) are to acknowledge upfront any relationship that they think could be said as resulting in a certain or perceived conflict of interest with regard to the manuscript. If an editor of the Board has a conflict of interest that may bias their treatment of the manuscript under consideration, they will excuse themselves from handling the same.

8. Plagiarism and Improper Authorship

Submissions will be subjected to a check for any plagiarism in the first stage of evaluation. Any cases of plagiarism or improper authorship on behalf of the Author(s) will not be tolerated and shall stand rejected in the first instance. Plagiarism can occur in respect to all types of sources and media. Improper authorship refers to cases where the person who has contributed the manuscript is unqualified as an author or where someone who has not contributed to the manuscript but has been listed as an author merely to express gratitude or any other reason.

9. Dealing with Unethical Behaviour

Unethical behaviour may be identified and brought to the attention of the Board at any time and by anyone. Whoever informs the Board of such conduct should provide sufficient information and evidence in order for an investigation to be initiated. All allegations will be taken seriously. The Board will contact the Author(s) of the manuscript and giving due consideration of the respective complaint or claims made, may also, reject the article or if published, issue a formal notice for formal retraction or withdrawal of publication from the journal.
