This session was designed to benefit students enrolled in the BBA and BBA CAM programs across both the 1st and 2nd shifts. The event kicked off with Mr. Atul Anand, whose inspiring touch was evident from the beginning as he opened the session with a motivating clip from the movie "Jo Jeeta Wohi Sikandar." The clip served as a catalyst, igniting the students' determination and emphasizing the pivotal role of hard work in achieving success.

Mr. Atul Anand's presentation delved into the concept of "Asset & Liability" within the context of personality development. He underscored the significance of nurturing one's strengths (assets) while simultaneously addressing and mitigating weaknesses (liabilities) to cultivate a strong and appealing personality. Furthermore, Mr. Anand introduced students to the 80:20 principle, showcasing its versatility across various facets of life. He elaborated on how focusing on critical factors can lead to substantial improvements and notable accomplishments. He also touched upon the Johari Window, a model for understanding self-awareness and interpersonal relations, enhancing the students' understanding of self-disclosure and personal growth.

The event's interactive sessions allowed students to actively engage with Mr. Atul Anand, creating an environment where they could freely ask questions, seek advice, and participate in discussions. These interactions added depth to the experience, making it even more enriching and personally meaningful for the students as they acquired tailored insights and guidance. Additionally, students had the opportunity to network with Mr. Anand, establishing valuable connections and gaining industry-related insights, which will undoubtedly be instrumental in their future endeavors.

In conclusion, the "How to Crack an Interview" career counseling session proved to be a significant success, providing students with invaluable knowledge and motivation. We look forward to hosting more such events to further empower and prepare our students for their future careers.
